Art Unit: 1795

1. Applicant's election of Group I in the reply filed on 23 December 2008 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

2. Claims 11-16 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

There is no antecedent basis for "border area" found in line 6 of claim 8.

In claim 9, lines 2 and 4, is the "porous metal layer" the same as the "porous metal layer" found in claim 6 or is this a different porous metal layer? Clarification is required and amendment of the claimed subject matter is required to clarify the same.

5. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 1795

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

6. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The present specification including the drawings does not support the area around the current collecting portion being covered by the polyethylene resin as both claim 8 recites. As set forth in claim 1, the first edge of both electrodes comprise the current collecting portions and these portions do not have resin near thereto.

Also the current collecting portion of claim 9 is not near the porous metal layer as this claim recites but is at the other end of the electrode plate.

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP-09-171818. ('818)

Art Unit: 1795

Reference is made to the English language abstract of '818 along with the machine translation of the same and all of the drawing figures. Paragraph 17 in '818 set forth the polyethylene resin on the edge of either of the anode or cathode plate in an alkaline battery-see the abstract while paragraph 18 and claim 4 recite the claimed 50 micron thickness of the resin. It is inherent that resin would not have a melting point higher than 120 degrees C so that the battery elements would not be destroyed at this high temperature.

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1795

10. Claims 5 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over '818 in view of JP-2002-015741. ('741)

The only claimed features not shown by '818 is the exposed portion of the electrode core material not covered with active material and for the configuration of the metal electrode core material. The Abstract and Figures 1, 2 and 4 in '741 disclose electrode core material 4 not covered with active material and for the claimed configuration of the metal electrode core material in Figure 2. To have included these elements of '741 in the battery of '818 would have been obvious to provide a higher output battery.

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Both Ebert and Cho et al. set forth various batteries with insulating portions on electrodes of interest.

12. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to John S. Maples whose telephone number is 571-272-1287. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday, 8:00-4:30.
